

NATIONAL

Guidance from Pediatric Stakeholders: A Coordinated Approach to Communicating Pediatric-related Information on Pandemic Influenza at the Community Level

This document provides a suggested step-by-step approach to communicating pediatric-related information on pandemic influenza at the community level. The document goal is to provide community planners "talking points" for discussions on a coordinated approach to communication in their community.

http://www.cdc.gov/h1n1flu/guidance/pediatrics_tool.htm

Seasonal and 2009 H1N1 Flu Vaccines Questions and Answers for Businesses

This document includes updated information about late season flu vaccination, including who is recommended, where to find vaccine, and why it should still be taken seriously.

http://www.cdc.gov/h1n1flu/business/business_qa.htm

Key Facts About 2009 H1N1 Flu Vaccine

This document includes updated information about late season flu vaccination, including who is recommended to get the vaccine, where to find vaccine, and why it should still be taken seriously.

http://www.cdc.gov/h1n1flu/vaccination/vaccine_keyfacts.htm

Additional information released included CDC guidance updates, fact sheets, frequently asked questions & answers on H1N1, information on the H1N1 vaccine, influenza hospitalizations and deaths, the FluView map, in addition to an update in the international H1N1 situation. To view these and other updates, visit CDC's "What's New" section at: <http://www.cdc.gov/h1n1flu/whatsnew.htm>

STATE

- General clinical testing and treatment recommendations by age group:
Recommended testing for a person with severe influenza-like illness where treatment decisions could depend on a virologic diagnosis:
Updated H1N1 Testing, Antiviral Treatment and Surveillance Guidance for Clinicians for the Current Low Influenza Levels in Florida (Source: Florida Department of Health, Epidemiology)
- The January 20, 2010 educational town hall meeting, "H1N1: Spread the Word, Not the Flu," is now available via Webcast. As part of the Webcast, Florida health experts discussed important information with the public about vaccination, health tips and what role employers can play in the workplace. To view, visit <http://www.myflusafety.com>.

Continue to utilize the following resources to obtain the most current, accurate information regarding H1N1 flu:

- Your local county health department: <http://www.floridashealth.com>
- The Florida Department of Health's flu information website: <http://www.myflusafety.com> and the Healthcare and Flu clinic locations pages: <http://www.doh.state.fl.us/DEMO/php/Healthcare.htm> and <http://www.myflusafety.com/myfluclinic.htm>.

Florida-specific disease data may be found on the Department of Health's, Bureau of Epidemiology Site:

http://www.doh.state.fl.us/Disease_ctrl/epi/swineflu/Reports/reports.htm